

Privacy Statement

The provision of quality health care is our principal concern. In order to provide this care, this practice is required to collect personal information from you regarding your general health, past medical or surgical events and family history. Without this general health picture, your treating doctor will be unable to plan your care appropriately.

Your medical record is a confidential document. It is the policy of this practice to maintain security of personal health information at all times and to ensure that this information is only available to authorised members of staff. It is not released without written consent. We have a legal and ethical duty to protect your information.

Should you require further information about the way that we protect your personal information, please ask at reception for a more detailed explanation of our policy in the form of an information sheet.

Patients who wish to access their information are welcome to discuss these matters with their treating doctor. Please ask for our guide on how to access your notes.

If you have any concerns with the way in which your privacy is handled by this practice please contact:
